

Alpharetta 30009: a strong market that just repriced one house for us

The submarket around 170 Michaela Drive is healthy — tight supply, three-week marketing times, top-decile schools, and a tech-employment engine. The subject property is the outlier: eleven months on market and a 20% price cut. That gap is the opportunity.

An eleven-month listing in a three-week market

6 bed · 5.5 bath · 5,120 sq ft new construction (2025) · 0.6 acre · 2-min walk to Wills Park · Milton HS 10/10

Why it failed: a launch at $526/sq ft — a price only Avalon-adjacent product has achieved. The builder likely pays 9–13% on construction debt: $15–20K per month of delay.

What closed comps actually support: $420–470 per square foot

The evidence, sale by sale

COMPARABLE	SOLD	DATE	SQ FT	$/SQ FT	READ-THROUGH
477 Michael Dr, 30009	$2,025,000	Aug 2025	4,804	$422	Best comp — same pocket, 2024 build; 92% of list in ~55 days
2444 Tenor Ln, 30009	$2,224,500	May 2025	3,506	$634	Avalon-adjacent walkability premium, small format
135 Von Lake Dr, 30004	$2,292,500	Oct 2025	7,300	$314	1-acre estate; 95.6% of list in ~2.5 months
2863 Stirling Ridge Ct, 30004	$2,032,500	Jun 2025	5,510	$369	2006 resale — proves $2M+ absorption depth
1070 Mid Broadwell Rd, 30004	$2,630,444	Jun 2023	4,822	$545	High-water new-construction print (2023 market)
289 Milton Ave, 30009	$1,844,000	Jun 2023	4,617	$399	Near-new resale, walkable downtown

The market's verdict is consistent: $2M+ product clears in 1-2.5 months when priced inside the band — 477 Michael Dr took an 8% discount to list; Von Lake 4.4%. Product priced above $500/sq ft away from Avalon simply sits — exactly the subject's history.

Micro-location: a two-minute walk to 120-acre Wills Park, six minutes to two of metro Atlanta's premier retail-dining districts — downtown Alpharetta and Avalon. Walkable-to-amenity streets in 30009 are the specific pocket where $420+/sq ft repeatedly prints.

Rental market: real, but thin at the top — plan around it

INCOME SCENARIO	MONTHLY	EVIDENCE
Unfurnished long-term lease	$5,500-7,500	115 Firefly Cir (5,000 sq ft) $5,000 · 604 Landler Ter (4,618 sq ft) $4,600 — ~$1.00/sq ft older stock; new build supports the upper band
Furnished executive lease	$8,000-11,000	25-50% furnished premium · 575+ corporate housing units already absorb in Alpharetta
Short-term rental (6BR)	~$6,100 gross	Not compelling — ~$73K/yr gross, 8% lodging tax, 2025 ordinance with subdivision density caps

CARRY ITEM · NON-HOMESTEAD INVESTOR BASIS	ANNUAL	BASIS
Property tax — 31.70 mills on 40% of FMV	~$27,000	Fulton 8.87 + Schools 17.08 + City 5.75 mills at $2.15M
Insurance — high-value landlord policy	~$12,000	Chubb/PURE-tier estimate
Utilities, lawn, alarm	~$9,000	$750/month while held

Gross yield on a ~$2M basis: 3-4%. The asset cannot carry itself at market leverage — rental income here is a carry offset during the hold, not the thesis.

The financing environment

INSTRUMENT	RATE	TERMS & ROLE IN THIS DEAL
30-yr conforming / jumbo	6.43% / ~6.6%	Freddie Mac, Jul 2 2026 — a 7-week low; the exit buyer's cost — affordability tailwind
DSCR investor loan	7.0–7.5%	75–80% LTV; needs 1.0–1.25 coverage the subject cannot produce
Private bridge / hard money (Atlanta)	~9.5–10.2% + 2–3 pts	To 85–90% LTC, 12-mo IO — our acquisition instrument
Spec construction loan	9–13%	What the seller likely pays today — the motivation clock
Investor cash-out refi	~7.75%	75% LTV cap, seasoning — contingency only; fails DSCR here

No cuts modeled

The dot plot tilts hawkish — futures price a possible hike by October 2026. We underwrite zero rate relief; any easing is upside, not plan.

Two things are true at once

The market is strong

- 2.3 months of supply — still seller-friendly
- Well-priced $2M+ homes clear in 1-2.5 months
- ~36% of homes still sell over list
- Income, jobs, and schools keep feeding the buyer pool

Buyers stopped overpaying

- 30009 $/sq ft down 4.6% year over year
- List-to-sale slipping to ~97%
- Aspirational pricing ($500+/sq ft off-Avalon) sits unsold
- The subject is the case study: -20% and still active

That split — strong absorption, disciplined pricing — is precisely the environment where buying a mispriced asset below the band and selling it inside the band works.
