

Alpharetta 30009: a strong market that just repriced one house for us

The submarket around 170 Michaela Drive is healthy — 2.3 months of supply, three-week average marketing times, top-decile schools, and a tech-employment engine. The subject property is the outlier: eleven months on market and a 20% price cut. That gap is the opportunity.

Two things are true at once. Alpharetta overall remains a seller-friendly market on volume and speed — and the price-per-foot data shows buyers are no longer paying aspirational premiums. Well-priced homes clear in one to two-and-a-half months; mispriced ones sit. That split defines this deal.

02 · THE SUBJECT

170 Michaela Drive: an eleven-month listing in a three-week market

6 bed · 5.5 bath · 5,120 sqft new construction (2025) on 0.6 acre. A two-minute walk to Wills Park, six minutes to downtown Alpharetta and Avalon, feeding the Milton High School district (GreatSchools 10/10). The house is right. The original price was not.

Why this listing failed — and why that's the entry.

The builder has carried this project for 21 months: land purchase Oct 2024, construction through 2025, and nearly a year of marketing — likely on a construction loan costing 9–10%. Every month of delay costs the seller roughly $15–20K in interest and carry. Sellers in that position trade price for certainty.

Comp support band for the subject's size and location: $420–470/sqft → $2.15M–$2.41M. The $634 print is a small-format home beside Avalon; the $314 print is a 7,300 sqft home where size dilutes $/sqft.

COMPARABLE	SOLD	DATE	SQFT	$/SQFT	BD/BA	READ-THROUGH
477 Michael Dr, 30009	$2,025,000	Aug 2025	4,804	$422	5/4.5	Best comp — same street pocket, 2024 build; listed $2,199,000, cleared at 92% of list in ~55 days
2444 Tenor Ln, 30009	$2,224,500	May 2025	3,506	$634	3/3.5	Avalon-adjacent walkability premium, small format
135 Von Lake Dr, 30004	$2,292,500	Oct 2025	7,300	$314	5/5.5	1-acre estate; 95.6% of list in ~2.5 months
2863 Stirling Ridge Ct, 30004	$2,032,500	Jun 2025	5,510	$369	6/8	2006 resale — shows $2M+ absorption depth

COMPARABLE	SOLD	DATE	SQFT	$/SQFT	BD/BA	READ-THROUGH
1070 Mid Broadwell Rd, 30004	$2,630,444	Jun 2023	4,822	$545	5/5.5	High-water new-construction print (2023 market)
289 Milton Ave, 30009	$1,844,000	Jun 2023	4,617	$399	5/4	Near-new resale, walkable downtown

The market's verdict is consistent: $2M+ product in this submarket clears in one to two-and-a-half months when priced inside the comp band — 477 Michael Dr needed an 8% discount to list, 135 Von Lake a 4.4% discount. Product priced above the band ($500+/sqft away from Avalon) simply sits, which is exactly the subject's history.

Anchor employers include Equifax (2,100 employees; a $25M expansion adding ~244 tech roles), Jackson Healthcare (2,000), Fiserv (1,900), LexisNexis Risk Solutions, ADP, Siemens, and Morgan Stanley's technology operations. 2025 brought the Hisense US headquarters relocation, Kloeckner Metals and Kawneer HQs, and an EY.ai lab built with NVIDIA. This is the executive-household pipeline that buys 5,000 sqft near Wills Park.

Micro-location: the subject walks to Wills Park (120 acres: equestrian center, pool, ballfields) and drives six minutes to two of metro Atlanta's premier retail-dining districts — downtown Alpharetta and Avalon. Walkable-to-amenity streets in 30009 are the specific pocket where $420+/sqft has repeatedly printed.

05 • INCOME & CARRY ECONOMICS

Rental market: real, but thin at the top — plan around it

INCOME SCENARIO	MONTHLY	EVIDENCE
Unfurnished long-term lease	$5,500–7,500	115 Firefly Cir (5,000 sqft): $5,000 · 604 Landler Ter (4,618 sqft): $4,600 — both ~$1.00/sqft, older stock; new-build premium supports the upper band
Furnished executive lease	~$8,000–11,000	25–50% furnished premium; 575+ corporate housing units marketed in Alpharetta; relocation demand from HQ moves
Short-term rental (6BR)	~$6,100 avg (gross)	Rabbu: 6+BR ADR ~$899, ~$73K/yr gross — not compelling after opex, 8% lodging tax, and Alpharetta's 2025 STR ordinance (density caps per subdivision make approval uncertain)

CARRY ITEM (NON-HOMESTEAD INVESTOR BASIS)	ANNUAL	BASIS
Property tax — 31.70 mills on 40% of FMV	~$27,000	Fulton 8.87 + Schools 17.08 + City 5.75 mills at $2.15M FMV; assessment lags sale ~1 season
Insurance (high-value landlord policy)	~$12,000	Chubb/PURE-tier estimate for ~$1.5–2M rebuild
Utilities, lawn, alarm	~$9,000	$750/month while held

Gross yield on a ~$2M basis is 3–4% — the asset cannot carry itself as a rental at market leverage. Rental income here is a carry-cost offset during the hold, not the thesis. The full debt-service-coverage math (and why buy-and-hold is rejected) is in the strategy deck.

06 • CAPITAL MARKETS

The financing environment, mid-2026

INSTRUMENT	RATE	TERMS
30-yr conforming / jumbo (the exit buyer's cost)	6.43% / ~6.6%	Freddie Mac PMMS, Jul 2, 2026 — a 7-week low; helps end-buyer affordability
DSCR investor loan	7.0–7.5%	75–80% LTV; requires 1.0–1.25 coverage the subject cannot produce
Private bridge / hard money (Atlanta)	~9.5–10.2% + 2–3 pts	To ~85–90% LTC, 70–75% of ARV, 12-mo IO — our acquisition instrument
Spec construction (context: seller's carry)	9–13%	What the builder is likely paying today — the motivation clock
Investor cash-out refi (contingency)	~7.75%	75% LTV cap, 680+ FICO, seasoning required

Rate outlook: the June 2026 FOMC held at 3.50–3.75% and the dot plot tilts hawkish — futures price a possible hike by October 2026. We underwrite no rate relief: the exit assumes today's ~6.6% jumbo buyer, and any easing is upside, not plan.
